The power of purchasing is now in your hands.

e-QuantumPower, Inc.

Q-Power

You and e-Quantum Power. The power of two.

It's finally arrived: the opportunity for you to join an industry buyers group that's designed to help you save money and expand sales opportunities. Introducing e-Quantum Power (Q-Power), an all-new program that allows you to tap into the entire e-Quantum client base to leverage your buying resources. Translation: more choices, lower prices, and additional discounts. All designed to enhance your bottom line.

Become a part of the Power today.

Joining Q-Power couldn't be any easier. For starters, it's available to all Quantum Net clients. Annual fees are very affordable and distributorships of every size are eligible to join. In addition, there are no minimums on how much you must purchase or sell. Simply sign up and start saving. It's that simple. It's that smart.

Power that gets to the point.

Q-Power was designed with the independent distributor in mind. It's a buyers group that features those things our industry needs. As a member, you're linked with the complete Quantum Net network – a resource of people and products that help you excel.

The profits producer.

Perhaps the greatest asset of Q-Power is its ability to empower your existing client base with access to new products, such as office product solutions from USSCO. It's a service that goes a long way toward expanding existing business while also increasing new marketing opportunities. You're now able to offer products at prices among the industry's most competitive. Electronic order processing is quick and easy. You can even offer clients their own "client-branded" web page.

In short, Q-Power works for your clients. And as a source of passive extra income, it's very attractive to you as well.

The lights are always on.

Q-Power is backed up by a great support system that provides peace of mind. As always, your e-Quantum team is on hand for software consulting. A simple call or an email is all it takes. In addition, we're there to assist in training. Marketing and sales tools are also available to all members.
